New Forces
Shaping the Future of International Business Education

Rocky Mountain CIBER Network – Western Regional CIBER Consortium Conference
Hosted by the University of Colorado Denver CIBER

Save the Date: March 3-5, 2016 in Denver, Colorado
Program begins Thursday at 1 pm and concludes Saturday at 1:30 pm

The 10th regional Faculty Development in International Business Conference for educators and administrators interested in internationalizing their business programs and curricula or further developing international business (IB) expertise For community colleges, Minority Serving Institutions, colleges, and universities

Topics to focus on
- New developments in international business education
- Disruptive technologies: new platforms and methods of teaching international business
- New topics in international business education
- Innovative pedagogy in international business education
- Transformational global changes impacting international business

Based on survey responses, separate concurrent sessions could be developed around specific teaching needs, i.e., for participants from community colleges, Tribal Colleges and Universities, those just beginning to teach international business, and/or experienced IB faculty conducting extensive research in the field. Speakers to include faculty from community colleges and four year institutions, business practitioners, and government representatives.

Program fee $125 For more information please contact jana.blakestad@ucdenver.edu, 303-315-8883
Hotel cost TBD

Wow, lots of good information and the topics were very diverse. I really came away with at least one good piece of information from every session I attended.

Participant comments from the 9th regional conference

Sponsored by the U. S. Department of Education through the Western Regional CIBER Consortium Members

Centers for International Business Education and Research (CIBERs) increase and promote the nation’s capacity for international understanding and economic enterprise.

Rocky Mountain CIBER Network
A network of 39 two and four year colleges and universities in the Rocky Mountain region, including 5 Hispanic Serving Institutions and 5 Tribal Colleges and Universities, facilitated by CU Denver and BYU CIBERs.