Sociological Theories: A Trans-modal Comparison of Effectiveness

Jane B. Doe
University of Colorado Denver

All text in an APA format paper—including the title page, abstract, body of the paper, and references page—will be double-spaced.
Abstract

This is the abstract page. It will contain between 250-500 words. It will briefly summarize the scope, orientations, and findings of the paper. It is left justified, the only page in an APA document to be as such. This is the abstract page. It will contain between 250-500 words. It will briefly summarize the scope, orientations, and findings of the paper. It is left justified, the only page in an APA document to be as such. This is the abstract page. It will contain between 250-500 words. It will briefly summarize the scope, orientations, and findings of the paper. It is left justified, the only page in an APA document to be as such. This is the abstract page. It will contain between 250-500 words. It will briefly summarize the scope, orientations, and findings of the paper. It is left justified, the only page in an APA document to be as such. This is the abstract page. It will contain between 250-500 words. It will briefly summarize the scope, orientations, and findings of the paper. It is left justified, the only page in an APA document to be as such.

If required, the abstract is immediately after the title page. The word "Abstract" will be centered and bolded at the top. The body of the abstract will be left justified (aligned with the left margin). The first line is not indented. It will contain a brief summary (250 to 500 words) of the entire paper and will be double-spaced. Some instructors also prefer this page to be called "Executive Summary" and may have different word count requirements.

Here are the basic capitalization rules for titles and headers:
1. Capitalize the first word of the title/heading and of any subtitle/subheading.
2. Capitalize all "major" words (nouns, verbs, adjectives, adverbs, and pronouns) in the title/heading, including the second part of hyphenated major words.
3. Capitalize all words of four letters or more.

(See additional capitalization rules for subheadings on the next page.)
This is the introduction. It is not labeled. It will conform to standard paragraph formatting with only the first line indented half an inch. In all APA documents, everything is double-spaced. Provide the introduction to the whole paper in this section.

This is the Methodology section. This is the Methodology section. This is the Methodology section. This is the Methodology section.

This is the section that describes participants. This is the section that describes participants. This is the section that describes participants. This is the section that describes participants. This is the section that describes participants.

Sub-sub-section. This is a sub-sub-section, should you need one. This is a sub-sub-section, should you need one. This is a sub-sub-section, should you need one. This is a sub-sub-section, should you need one. This is a sub-sub-section, should you need one. This is a sub-sub-section, should you need one. This is a sub-sub-section, should you need one. This is a sub-sub-section, should you need one.

Sub-sub-sub-section. This is a rare sub-sub-sub section. This is a rare sub-sub-sub section. This is a rare sub-sub-sub section. This is a rare sub-sub-sub section.

Sub-sub-sub-sub-section. This is the rarest section of them all.

All sources are alphabetized based on the author's last name. For each entry, all lines after the first line are indented half an inch (this is called a hanging indent).