“Predatory Publishers and Related Scholarly Publishing Scams: Essential Information for Researchers”
Jeffrey Beall
Associate Professor
University of Colorado – Denver
Auraria Campus Library

Please join us as Jeffrey Beall tells the story of predatory publishers and his experience with them, a journey that started over five years ago. He will also cover related scams, including fake impact factors and hijacked scholarly journals. He’ll examine scholarly publishing in general and focus on different publishing models for academic journals as well as some new scholarly communication-related resources and services that benefit researchers.

Everyone is welcome to the seminar. If you would like to meet with the speaker, please email Dr. Annika Mosier at annika.mosier@ucdenver.edu
