Social Justice Activist Scholarship
Administered by the Social Justice Program at CU Denver
2016-2017

Two (2) $1,000 Scholarships Available!

Deadline: April 7, 2016

The Social Justice Activist Scholarship is designed to support students who are actively engaged in efforts to support positive social change in areas of social justice, such as human rights, peace, gender and racial justice, GLBTQ rights, environmental sustainability, economic justice and other related social justice endeavors.

Students who have declared a Social Justice Minor will be given preference for the scholarships, but if eligible Social Justice Minors are not in the applicant pool by the submission deadline, non-minors meeting the criteria below will be considered.

Preference will be given to applicants who:

1. Have completed a minimum of 15 credit hours at University of Colorado Denver
2. Are enrolled for at least six credit hours during Spring Semester 2016
3. Are engaged in community or campus activism.
4. Are a Social Justice Minor, or declare a Social Justice Minor in Spring 2017
5. Have a cumulative GPA of 3.00 or higher (will be considered regardless of GPA)
