Nature of Work
The Centers for American Indian and Alaska Native Health is seeking two part-time, Student Research Assistants to be primarily responsible for aiding in data collection by phone. This position will be part-time, up to 20 hours per week, September 1, 2019 through May 31, 2020.

The National Medication Assisted Treatment Survey project, funded by National Institute on Drug Abuse is examining the use of evidence-based treatments in substance abuse treatment programs serving American Indian and Alaska Native communities.

Professional Field
Public Health

Supervision Received
These positions will be supervised by the Project Coordinator.

Examples of Work Performed
Two part-time positions based on the Anschutz Medical Campus are available. The individuals hired into these student assistant positions will work alongside faculty to complete tasks related to survey data collection in the following areas:

1. Assist project staff in contacting tribal organizations to ask for their participation in a survey;
2. Completing telephone surveys with respondents;
3. Following careful record-keeping procedures for tracking research participants;
4. Other duties as assigned

Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities
- Careful attention to detail
- Organization and efficiency
- Strong telephone communication skills
- Internet searching skills
- Ability to work well in a team environment and observe strict rules of confidentiality and appropriate communication
- Experience with basic use of Microsoft Word

Minimum Requirements
- Available for a flexible work schedule which may include early morning hours, general workday hours, and evening hours Monday through Friday with accommodation made for your class schedule
Preferred Qualifications
Graduate student, or public health research experience

Hourly Pay Rate
$14.65-$16.58 per hour, commensurate with degree and experience

To apply:
Create or access your Student/Alumni Handshake account to submit a cover letter, resume, and contact information for 3 references by Monday, August 5, 2019.

Source of Funding
National Institute on Drug Abuse, National Medication Assisted Treatment Survey Project

The University of Colorado Denver is dedicated to ensuring a safe and secure environment for our faculty, staff, students and visitors. To assist in achieving that goal, we conduct background investigations for all prospective employees. The University of Colorado is committed to diversity and equality in education and employment.