Targeting American Indian & Alaska Native Health Priorities:

Diabetes & Cardiovascular Disease

JUNE 22 & 23, 2010

There will be both a clinical and a health educator track for registrants in different professional roles. The health education track will focus on Honoring the Gift of Heart Health, while the clinical track will be lead by Dr. Julien Naylor and will cover Diabetes, Heart Disease, Hypertension and Dyslipidemia in Native communities.

The training will be held in Denver, Colorado. Registration space is limited so register soon!

Participants will be reimbursed the cost of registration and per diem. Registration is by personal check, money order or organizational check. (Note: Organizational registrations are not reimbursable.)

Airfare, ground transportation and hotel accommodations will be prepaid by the University of Colorado.
Please Complete the registration form and fax to 303.724.1474, attn: Brad Morse

Name: __________________________________________

Home Address: __________________________________

________________________________________________

Email: __________________________________________

Work Phone #: _________________________________

Name of Organization: ___________________________

Note: upon receipt of this registration form, a University of Colorado staff person will contact you and request a personal check, money order or organizational check in the amount of $101.00. Personal checks and money orders will be reimbursed the full amount after the completion of the training. Organizational checks will not be reimbursed.

Please contact Brad Morse at brad.morse@ucdenver.edu or Teresa Cochran at teresa.cochran@ucdenver.edu for more information.