GLOBAL LIVINGSTON INSTITUTE

• International Development and Public Health in East Africa
• Will Tesconi, Director of Academic Partnerships
  Jamie Van Leeuwen, Founder and CEO
• Global Livingston Institute
• Partial funding available
• Flexible duration but typically 2-8 weeks
• No language requirement
• Travel recommended but not required
• Range of projects related to public health (e.g. HIV prevention, mental health, nutrition, Down syndrome, and substance abuse) and open to proposals
• Opportunities related to education, training, and research
Global Livingston Institute is a 501c3 non-profit so we do our best to subsidize costs. We try to work with students to fundraise, identify grants, and secure academic scholarships. The primary costs are airfare and cost of living while in-country.
• For more information contact will@globallivingston.org or by phone at 720-598-7348. We will be opening applications for fellowships in mid November.
