Undergraduate Scholarships

UCD Dean's List Scholarship: UC Denver uses a fixed criterion across all colleges for determining eligibility for the Dean's List. This policy applies to undergraduate students.

For fall and spring semesters, students must successfully complete 9 hours in the semester upon which to determine grade point. These courses can be both within and outside of the School of Public Affairs. Metro pooled courses will not be included in the calculation nor will they count towards the 9 hours required for consideration. The GPA set for inclusion in the Dean's List is 3.75.

In the summer semesters, students must complete 6 hours as a basis for inclusion in the Dean's List. Course inclusion will be the same as in fall and spring semesters. The GPA for Dean's List in summer will also be 3.75.

The School of Public Affairs will collect data each semester on the number of students making the Dean's List. Scholarship awards tied to the Dean's List vary each semester depending on the total amount of funding available and the number of qualified students.

SPA Dean's Experiential Learning Scholarship: To be awarded to current BACJ students who actively participate in experiential learning projects. The award will be merit based. The student must be actively engaged in an experiential learning project related to their studies. Examples of experiential learning projects include: participation in the Criminal Justice Honor Society, volunteer work, internship activity, active participation in criminology and criminal justice co-curricular events, etc. Students must be enrolled in at least 9 semester credit hours at UCD for the duration of the award. For consideration, students must submit the School of Public Affairs Scholarship Application, a Student Aid Report (SAR) generated from the Free Application for Federal Student Assistance, and an essay describing experiential learning projects or activities. Award amount will range from $500-$1500 a semester depending on the number of qualified applicants, the quality of the applicant, and available funding. Scholarships will be available for the fall and spring semester to current students only. The priority deadline for consideration is April 1.

First Generation Advocate – School of Public Affairs

$3,000 scholarship is available to rising juniors and seniors in the School of Public Affairs who expect to be the first in their family to attain a four-year college degree and who want to support other first generation students in SPA. Up to three awards will be made each year, with preference for students who are succeeding academically and who have demonstrated commitment to fostering diversity and inclusion. First Generation Advocates will spend 10-12 hours per week in activities such as providing peer advising and support to first generation students, participating in summer bridge, first-year seminars, and/or learning communities, and engaging in community outreach for prospective first generation students and their families.

In 250-500 words please describe how this scholarship and experience will benefit your educational goals. Additionally, please include how your personality, experiences, and skills will allow you to effectively work with peer groups for advising and community.

Graduate Scholarships

SPA Dean's Scholarship: To be awarded to new or continuing degree seeking graduate students in the School of Public Affairs. The award will be based on merit (high school or college GPA & test scores), a written essay, and financial need. For consideration, students must submit the School of Public Affairs Scholarship Application a current Student Aid Report (SAR) generated from the Free Application for Federal Student Assistance, and a 250-500 word essay. The essay should address two areas:

1. The student’s goals as they relate to their graduate program. Students should highlight what they have learned, or what they hope to learn, in their criminal justice courses and how they plan to apply that knowledge to achieving their goals.
2. How the financial assistance will contribute to their success in the program. Award amounts will range from $500-$1500 per semester depending on the number of qualified applicants, the competitiveness of the applicant, and available funding.

Dean’s International Research Scholarship

Each fiscal year, the School of Public Affairs will make available a small amount of funding to help students cover expenses associated with studying abroad. Assistance is available on a matching basis, and the amount of assistance available to any one student may not exceed $1,500 in each year. The funding will be awarded on a first-come, first-serve basis, and once the amount of funding allocated for that year has been awarded, no more financial assistance will be made available. Available funding is at SPA’s discretion and may vary from year to year. Students interested in applying for financial assistance through this fund should obtain the Application for International Scholarship form from SPA’s International Coordinator, complete the application, and return it to the International Coordinator. Applications will be considered in the order received by the International Scholarship Fund Committee, consisting of the International Coordinator and two faculty members appointed by the Dean. It is recommended that students submit their application for funding at least six months prior to their anticipated travel period.
