Job Summary
The School of Education & Human Development (SEHD) at the University of Colorado Denver announces a tenure-track faculty position in Administrative Leadership and Policy Studies beginning in the FALL of 2016.

The Administrative Leadership and Policy Studies (ALPS) faculty deliver the principal licensure program for education professionals, an Executive Leadership Program for those who wish to earn administrator licensure, as well as M.A. and Ed.S. degree programs. The individual selected for the position will join a collaborative and dedicated faculty who emphasize quality in principal preparation, provide a standards-based program, utilize problem-based instruction, and conduct performance-based assessments. ALPS faculty members are also active members of the school-wide doctoral program. The scholar filling this position will conduct research in educational leadership or related areas and contribute to the teaching and service missions of the School of Education and Human Development (SEHD).

Located in the heart of downtown Denver, which has a population that is increasingly diverse (32% Latino and 10% African American as well as Asian and American Indian), the faculty of the School of Education & Human Development (SEHD) have taken a leadership role in preparing professionals to work in diverse schools, agencies and related settings. The SEHD emphasizes collaborative partnerships within diverse community settings, and currently The School of Education & Human Development currently has over 2000 graduate students and a growing undergraduate student body, 47 full time faculty, as well as grant faculty and staff who are responsible for about six million dollars annually in grants.

The School is accredited by NCATE, the Colorado Department of Education and the Colorado Department of Higher Education. It is one of 13 schools/colleges that make up the University of Colorado Denver. These schools are housed on two campuses—one in downtown Denver and one at Anschutz Medical Campus in Aurora; the School of Education & Human Development is in downtown Denver. CU Denver is the premier urban research university in Colorado and is committed to becoming one of the top ten urban institutions in the country.

Job Responsibilities:

- Teach with one or more instructional teams in the delivery of the Principal Licensure Program (M.A./Ed.S.), and in the Executive Leadership Concentration areas within the Ed.D. and Ph.D Programs, infusing aspects of equity and social justice in coursework;
• Lead graduate learning experiences in one or more of the following content areas: leadership, school improvement, Instructional leadership and evaluation, and equity (law, finance, and policy);

• Conduct a vigorous research agenda that addresses aspects of educational leadership;

• Serve as a cohort leader for one of principal-licensure cohorts;

• With the support of the student service center, advise students;

• Work closely with faculty in program-design and curricular program efforts;

• Participate in improvement of performance-based assessments aligned with professional standards in educational leadership;

• Take an active role in establishing partnerships with schools and districts that contribute simultaneously to the quality of principal preparation and the professional knowledge base;

• Assist in expanding the program's inclusion of and connection with members of Denver's diverse communities; and

• Maintain an active role in service activities related to the program, school, university, community and profession.

Minimum Qualifications

• An earned doctorate in Educational Leadership, Administration, or a closely related field

Required Competencies, Knowledge, Skills and Abilities

• Experience with culturally, linguistically, and economically diverse communities, knowledge of urban school issues, and an interest in collaborating with a variety of constituencies in an urban environment
• Demonstrated ability to work collaboratively with colleagues
• Demonstrated skills and potential for leadership in research and scholarly publications

Desired Qualifications

• Leadership experience as a K-12 administrator
• Demonstrated success or potential success for graduate-level teaching
• Experience with and/or commitment to using technology for teaching and learning
• Experience working with graduate students (instruction, mentoring, and research)
• Experience working with cohort delivery models
• Demonstrated interest and experience in working in partnership with schools, communities, government agencies and other key constituencies in diverse settings that will support the program's work and strengthen its ties to the urban community

Employment Conditions
Rank: Associate Professor
This is a full-time academic year position. Opportunity for summer teaching is available. Salary is commensurate with qualifications. The University of Colorado offers a full benefits package. Information on University benefits programs, including eligibility, is located at https://www.cu.edu/employee-services/benefits

Application Procedures
Please prepare the following materials for submission. All applications must be submitted through the University's online job application site: http://www.jobsatcu.com.
1. A letter of application including the candidate’s interests, experiences and qualifications related to the responsibilities of the position.
2. A current curriculum vitae.
3. Transcripts of graduate work and evidence of terminal degree. Unofficial transcripts may be sent for application. Official transcripts will be requested at point of hire.
4. Representative reprints of articles of papers or articles (no more than three).
5. This position requires three confidential letters of recommendation, which will be requested at a later stage in the search process. You will need to enter email addresses for your recommendation providers at this time.
6. Selected portfolio materials such as examples of current research and publications, a research agenda/plan, course syllabi, teaching evaluations, teaching philosophy, courses taught, partnership activities and involvement with diverse communities.

If an offer with tenure is made, the following materials will be requested.
   a. A copy of criteria used to make decisions about tenure and promotion at the candidate's current institution
   b. A copy of the official letter that granted tenure and/or promotion with a copy of criteria used to make those decisions

Review of applications will begin immediately and the posting will remain open until the position is filled.

All materials received become the property of the University of Colorado Denver.

Address inquiries regarding the faculty position to the search committee chair:
Connie L. Fulmer
Connie.Fulmer@ucdenver.edu

Address inquiries about the application process or submission of application materials to Jessica Coon at SEHDHR@ucdenver.edu.
The University of Colorado Denver is dedicated to ensuring a safe and secure environment for our faculty, staff, students and visitors. To achieve that goal, we conduct background investigations for all prospective employees. The University of Colorado is committed to diversity and equality in education and employment.

The University of Colorado Denver is committed to recruiting and supporting a diverse student body, faculty and administrative staff. The university strives to promote a culture of inclusiveness, respect, communication and understanding. We encourage applications from women, ethnic minorities, persons with disabilities and all veterans. The University of Colorado is committed to diversity and equality in education and employment.