RE: PROFESSIONAL LEADERSHIP AWARD

DEADLINE: 5:00pm, Thursday, August 13, 2015

The University of Colorado School of Medicine Women in Medicine and Science Office (WIMS) will fund registration and travel expenses up to $2500 each for 2 participants to attend the Mid-Career Women Faculty Professional Development Seminar, December 12-15, 2015 in Austin, TX. The Mid-Career Seminar is sponsored by the Association of American Medical Colleges (AAMC).

This seminar is tailored to associate professors with ambition for departmental and institutional leadership in academic medicine, and who have medical school appointments in the United States.

The objectives of the seminar are to develop career paths to leadership; to provide background of institutional finance and departmental budgeting processes; to enhance further such skills as negotiation, communication and conflict resolution; and to expand networks of mentors and colleagues.

Additional information regarding the AAMC Mid-Career Seminar is available at this link: https://www.aamc.org/members/leadership/catalog/323118/mid-careerwomenfacultyprofessionaldevelopmentseminar.html. Please direct questions about the seminar to the contacts listed at the AAMC’s webpage.

To apply for this funding opportunity, please send the following information via email to CJ.Klingler@ucdenver.edu no later than 5:00pm Thursday, August 13, 2015:

3. One letter of support from your department chair or division head – sent separately and directly from her or his office – outlining your leadership potential.

Only associate professors with primary, regular appointments at the University of Colorado School of Medicine are eligible to receive these awards, and any SOM faculty wishing to attend this seminar must first apply for funding through the Office of Women in Medicine and Science.

This application process for financial subsidy is separate from that of AAMC’s application process to attend the seminar. Hence, submission of an application for this funding does not fulfill the application requirements of the AAMC.
