CSB Student Performance

- 21 CSB students out of ~184 in Class of 2018
  - 11%
- 3 of 23 students in Gold Humanism Honor Society
  - 13%
- 6 of 25 students in Alpha Omega Alpha
  - 24%
- Numerous CSB students in leadership positions
- 4th year rotations, Step 2 CK, residency match???
- Positive feedback from students and preceptors
Why should you consider the CSB?

1. Longitudinal Integrated Clerkship (LIC) model
   1. Patient continuity across specialties
   2. Preceptor continuity and mentorship
   3. Self-directed learning
   4. Few to no residents

2. Small cohort size, community

3. Community engagement

4. Overall Performance
Colorado Springs Branch

- Up to 24 students complete their 3\textsuperscript{rd} year of medical school (Phase III) at the Colorado Springs Branch (CSB).
- Students can choose to complete 4\textsuperscript{th} year electives (Phase IV) in CS.
FAQ’s

• Will I get the same patient diversity in CS as I would in Denver?
  • Yes (CS population 431,834)

• Will I work with physicians who are CU Faculty?
  • Yes, all of your preceptors have CU faculty appointments and receive specific faculty development/training in the LIC model

• Can I participate in one of the “Tracks” as a CSB student?
  • YES
FAQ’s

• Do I have to apply to a primary care specialty as a CSB student?
  • No

• Can I request a change once campus assignment made?
  • Only if demonstrable personal or economic hardship
CSB Selection

- Students can express CSB interest during secondary application (non-binding)
- Additional info on interview day, CSB website, video (new)
- After acceptance to CUSOM, students complete campus preference sheet from admissions packet
- All accepted students with interest in CSB (i.e. not option 4) receive a phone call and email from Assoc. Dean for CSB
- All students invited to attend CSB Preview Day (early April, day before 2nd Look Day)
- In May, up to 24 students from incoming class are selected into the CSB
- If open spots prior to Phase III, current students can apply to fill open slots (up to 24 students)
