Embodying Unemployment: An Historical Perspective

Marjorie Levine-Clark
Professor of History and Associate Dean
University of Colorado Denver
College of Liberal Arts and Sciences

This presentation explores unemployment as an experience of health and the body, using examples from 20th century Britain.

Monday, February 6th
Noon-1:00pm
Fulginiti Pavilion for Bioethics and Humanities