2019 SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES
April 29-May 3, 2019

Bioethics in a Violent World: Health Professionals in Times of War, Genocide, and Political Conflict

The Center for Bioethics and Humanities at the University of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus is pleased to announce sponsorship opportunities for the 2019 Holocaust Genocide and Contemporary Bioethics program. The program takes place during the Week of Remembrance, and promotes education, scholarship and community engagement on the lessons of the Holocaust for health care and society.

Mission: Health Professionals have a special and ongoing responsibility to ensure that the lessons of the Holocaust remain vivid and relevant in the minds of all caregivers and researchers. It is the mission of the Holocaust Genocide and Contemporary Bioethics program to inspire and guide health professionals so that they practice with compassion, competence, respect and justice and uphold their ultimate duty to protect patients.

2019 Featured Speakers

Len Rubenstein, JD, from Johns Hopkins University, is a lawyer and the former Executive Director and President of Physicians for Human Rights, an organization that carries our forensic documentation of war crimes and advocates for the protection of health workers in war zones. Professor Rubenstein has broad knowledge about the origins of human rights laws and the laws of war that arose out of the experiences in WWII.

Zaher Sahloul, MD, is a critical care specialist at Christ Advocate Medical Center in Chicago and the immediate past president of and a senior advisor to the Syrian American Medical Society (SAMS), a humanitarian and advocacy organization that provides medical relief to Syrians and Syrian refugees. Dr. Sahloul is the founder of the American Relief Coalition for Syria, a coalition of 14 US-based humanitarian organizations working in Syria. He is also a former medical school classmate of Bashar al-Assad.

Sponsorship funds will support the cost of this year’s events and allow us to continue to host important Holocaust Bioethics programing for years to come.
