Dr. Larry Cahill is a Professor in the Department of Neurobiology and Behavior at the University of California, Irvine. He became interested in brain and memory as an undergraduate at Northwestern University. After working for two years at Searle Drug Company in Illinois on memory enhancing drugs, he earned his PhD in Neuroscience from the University of California Irvine, where the Cahill Laboratory is now located.

His research focuses on the neural mechanisms of emotionally influenced memory, and specifically on the profoundly important issue of sex influences on emotional memory and brain function. He is one of the most influential leaders on the topic of sex influences on the brain.

Dr. Cahill is a Professor in the Department of Neurobiology and Behavior at the University of California, Irvine. He became interested in brain and memory as an undergraduate at Northwestern University. After working for two years at Searle Drug Company in Illinois on memory enhancing drugs, he earned his PhD in Neuroscience from the University of California Irvine, where the Cahill Laboratory is now located.

His research focuses on the neural mechanisms of emotionally influenced memory, and specifically on the profoundly important issue of sex influences on emotional memory and brain function. He is one of the most influential leaders on the topic of sex influences on the brain.

Dr. Cahill is an internationally regarded, dynamic speaker whose work has been highlighted in the New York Times, the London Times, PBS, and 60 Minutes.
With gratitude,
Judy Regensteiner, PhD

You will not want to miss the 2016 Center for Women’s Health Research Annual Community Luncheon on November 1, 2016! We are delighted to have Dr. Larry Cahill, an influential leader on the topic of sex influences on emotional memory and brain function, as our keynote speaker. As more attention is being given to the critical role that sex differences play in the course of disease as well as in the diagnosis and treatment of disease, we know that you will receive important and helpful information about your health and about the health of your loved ones.

Located at the University of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus, the Center for Women’s Health Research is committed to women’s health and sex difference research. Through research and education, the CWHR will prevent, treat, and cure cardiovascular disease and metabolic diseases in women. By funding and training scientists focused on heart disease and diabetes in women, the CWHR is tackling unanswered questions about women’s health and sex differences today in order to give women and their families a higher quality of life and a healthier tomorrow.

We greatly appreciate your consideration of a sponsorship of the 2016 Annual Community Luncheon on November 1, 2016. We look forward to seeing you there!

Sponsorship Levels

Leading Sponsor | $25,000
- Speaking time at podium at the Annual Community Luncheon on November 1st (anticipated audience: 700)
- Opportunity to have a CWHR researcher speak at a company gathering or private event
- Featured in Donor Spotlight section of the CWHR newsletter
- Tour of the Center for Women's Health Research led by Dr. Judy Regensteiner
- Up to three tables of 10 at the 2016 Center for Women's Health Research Annual Community Luncheon
- Additional table of 10 for own use or to donate to the community
- Option to host a CWHR researcher at the table
- Verbal and print recognition at pre-event functions
- Name and logo placement on all luncheon printed materials
- Prominent display of name and/or logo the day of the luncheon
- Name or company logo listed on sponsor page of the CWHR website
- Eight tickets to the October 31st private reception for the keynote speaker

Sustaining Sponsor | $5,000
- Table of 10 at the 2016 Center for Women’s Health Research Annual Community Luncheon
- Option to host a CWHR researcher at the table
- Verbal recognition at pre-event functions and at the annual luncheon
- Prominent display of name and/or logo the day of the luncheon
- Name and logo placement on all luncheon printed materials
- Name or company logo listed on sponsor page of the CWHR website
- Two tickets to the October 31st private reception for the keynote speaker

Advocate Sponsor | $2,500
- Table of 10 at the 2016 Center for Women’s Health Research Annual Community Luncheon
- Name and logo placed in luncheon program as sponsor
- Name or company logo listed on sponsor page of the CWHR website

Community Table Host | $2,500
- Donate a table of 10 to members of the community who would otherwise not be able to attend
- Name and logo placed in luncheon program as sponsor
- Name or company logo listed on sponsor page of the CWHR website

Mentoring Sponsor | $10,000
- Up to two tables of 10 at the 2016 Center for Women’s Health Research Annual Community Luncheon
- Tour of the Center for Women’s Health Research led by Dr. Judy Regensteiner
- Option to host a CWHR researcher at the table
- Verbal recognition at pre-event functions and at the annual luncheon
- Prominent display of name and/or logo the day of the luncheon
- Name and logo placement on all luncheon printed materials
- Name or company logo listed on sponsor page of the CWHR website
- Four tickets to the October 31st private reception for the keynote speaker

Individual Luncheon Ticket | $100
- One ticket to the Center for Women’s Health Research Annual Community Luncheon

---

Estimated fair market value of the Center for Women’s Health Research Annual Community Luncheon is $35 per person. Fair market value of a table of 10 is $350. Contributions less the Fair Market Value (FMV) may be tax deductible. Please consult your tax advisor.
Dr. Larry Cahill is a Professor in the Department of Neurobiology and Behavior at the University of California, Irvine. He became interested in brain and memory as an undergraduate at Northwestern University. After working for two years at Searle Drug Company in Illinois on memory enhancing drugs, he earned his PhD in Neuroscience from the University of California Irvine, where the Cahill Laboratory is now located.

His research focuses on the neural mechanisms of emotionally influenced memory, and specifically on the profoundly important issue of sex influences on emotional memory and brain function. He is one of the most influential leaders on the topic of sex influences on the brain.

Dr. Cahill is an internationally regarded, dynamic speaker whose work has been highlighted in the New York Times, the London Times, PBS, and 60 Minutes.
Sponsorship Opportunities

CONTACT INFORMATION

Organization/Company

Contact Name

Address

City  State  Zip

Phone  Email

Website

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Please check your sponsorship level:

- Leading Sponsor – $25,000
- Mentoring Sponsor – $10,000
- Sustaining Sponsor – $5,000
- Advocate Sponsor – $2,500
- Community Table Host
  (Donate a table of 10 to a community group) – $2,500
- Individual Luncheon Ticket – $100

Please make checks payable to University of Colorado Foundation.
Net proceeds to benefit the Center for Women’s Health Research Operating Fund at the University of Colorado Foundation (tax ID number 84-6049811). An official gift tax receipt from the University of Colorado Foundation to follow.