The University of Colorado’s Denver and Anschutz campuses proudly announce the Lorna Grindlay Moore, PhD Faculty Launch Fund for research in Women’s Health

Thanks to an endowment established by Dr. Moore, eligible Instructors or Assistant Professors will be invited to apply for $40,000/yr for up to 2 years to help establish an independent research program. Faculty may be appointed in any of the schools or colleges of the University of Colorado Denver and University of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus. Research must be in women’s health across the lifespan; work will be prioritized that is central to launching the faculty’s independent research program. Appropriate areas include, but are not limited to cardiovascular health, diabetes, education, family planning, infertility, mental health, oncology, pregnancy complications and public policy.

All due dates are tentative, to be confirmed by December 1, 2019
Letter of Intent: January 15, 2020 | Due date for applications: March 1, 2020
Funds available as of July 1, 2020

Applications will be reviewed by a panel convened by the Chair of Ob/Gyn. Details regarding the composition of the application may be found at www.ucdenver-obgyn.org/lorna-moore-fund.

Lorna Grindlay Moore, PhD is an internationally renowned researcher and Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology. Dr. Moore is the founding chair of the CU Denver campus’ Anthropology Department, while holding adjunct appointments in Medicine, Preventive Medicine, and Surgery/Emergency Medicine. She cofounded the CU Denver campus’ PhD program in Health and Behavioral Sciences, and the CU Anschutz Medical Campus’ Center for Women’s Health Research, and was a member of the steering committee for creating the Colorado School of Public Health.

A Letter of Intent (including the intended duration of the award) is required. It should be sent to:
