Section 14–501 to be under the new subtitle “Subtitle 5. Youth Sports Programs”
WHEREAS, A concussion is one of the most commonly reported injuries in children and adolescents who participate in sports and recreational activities; and

WHEREAS, The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention estimates that as many as 3,900,000 sports–related and recreation–related concussions occur in the United States each year; and

WHEREAS, A concussion is a type of brain injury that may range from mild to severe and can disrupt the way the brain normally works; and

WHEREAS, A concussion may occur in any organized or unorganized sport or recreational activity and may result from a fall or from players colliding with each other, the ground, or other obstacles; and

WHEREAS, A concussion may occur with or without loss of consciousness, but the vast majority occurs without loss of consciousness; and

WHEREAS, Continuing to play with a concussion or symptoms of head injury leaves a young athlete especially vulnerable to greater injury and even death; now, therefore,
