“Shared Decision Making in Practice: Advanced Cancer at Home”

Attendees of this talk will be able to:

1. explain the importance of "everyday" communication in advanced cancer patient-spouse caregiver research.
2. discuss potential explanations for individual variability in advanced cancer spouse caregiver communication.

Dr. Maija Reblin is a social and health psychologist who studies the social context of advanced cancer caregivers.

Lunch will be provided to the first 30 participants. No registration required.

For live remote access: https://ucdenver.zoom.us/j/159264933
Or Telephone: 1.646.876.9923 Meeting ID: 159 264 933

Maija Reblin, PhD
Assistant Professor, Department of Health Outcomes & Behavior, Moffitt Cancer Center

Previous recorded seminars available at the ACCORDS Education Program website: https://goo.gl/1q9nUx