

Biomarkers of TB Treatment
Monday, January 25, 2010
9:00 AM
Microbiology Building
CSU Campus, Fort Collins
Room B120

As a result of a very successful Colorado TB meeting held in September at the Hilton Hotel in Fort Collins we are pleased to announce the first of our planned Front Range Quarterly TB Meetings. Our aim is to bring together interested parties to further collaborations in the field of tuberculosis. This first meeting will take place at Colorado State University in January so mark your calendar.

The basic science perspective will be given by Dr. John Belisle from Colorado State University and followed by a clinical perspective from Dr. Payam Nahid of the University of California San Francisco representing the TB Trials Consortium Biomarkers group. All are welcome.
