A. INTRODUCTION

Tenure is granted with the expectation of continued professional growth and ongoing productivity in teaching, scholarly/creative work, clinical activity (if applicable), and leadership and service. Every tenured faculty member has a duty to maintain professional competence. Post-tenure Review (PTR) helps to ensure this occurs. As stated in Regent Policy 5.C.2(H) and University of Colorado APS 1022: Standards, Processes and Procedures for Reappointment, Tenure, Promotion, and Post-Tenure Review, the purposes of PTR are to facilitate continued faculty development, and to ensure professional accountability to the university community, the Board of Regents.
and the public.

As is required by the University of Colorado Administrative Policy Statement (APS) #1022, “Standards, Processes and Procedures for Comprehensive Review, Tenure, Post-Tenure Review and Promotion,” this document describes the University of Colorado Denver | Anschutz Medical Campus procedures for peer evaluation during post tenure review (PTR) (hereafter PTR) and for appeals of the PTR evaluation, and for granting PTR development awards. It also includes other procedural details not explicitly covered in APS #1022. It supplements, but does not repeat, the information found in APS #1022, including definitions and procedural details pertaining to: regular five-year PTRs; triggered reviews; Performance Improvement Agreements (PIAs); Extensive Reviews and Development Plans; sanctions that may be imposed when Development Plans do not produce the desired results; and assessment of PTR.

B. POLICY STATEMENT

1. As required by APS 1022, after the award of tenure, a faculty member must be evaluated in a comprehensive manner every five years, unless interrupted by promotion review or leave. Promotion re-starts the PTR clock.

2. Tenure is granted with the expectation of continued professional growth and ongoing productivity in teaching, research/creative work, clinical activity, and leadership and service. Every tenured faculty member has a duty to maintain professional competence. The purposes of PTR, as stated in APS #1022 are: 1) to facilitate continued faculty development, consistent with the academic needs and goals of the University and the most effective use of institutional resources and 2) to ensure professional accountability by a regular, comprehensive evaluation of every tenured faculty member’s performance. PTR evaluations will be conducted by appropriate faculty peers—either the primary unit faculty or the faculty of the appropriate college personnel review committee. Each school and college, and the Auraria Library, will develop must have a written statement that describes how the primary unit or a different college personnel review committee will be constituted for the PTR evaluations. Faculty members may not serve on this committee during the year in which they are undergoing post-tenure review.

3. Primary unit guidelines for post-tenure review must state the criteria that will be used to evaluate faculty for post-tenure review and indicate the level of performance required for a faculty member to be considered as “meeting expectations” in each of the areas of teaching, scholarly/creative work, and leadership and service. “Meeting expectations” is the minimum standard of acceptable professional performance. PTR guidelines and criteria must be approved by the dean of the school/college/library and provost. The guidelines should be incorporated into the primary unit’s written criteria for tenure and promotion, or into the unit’s bylaws or other policy document.

C. PROCEDURES
1. PTR evaluations will be conducted by appropriate faculty peers—either the primary unit faculty or the faculty of the appropriate college personnel review committee. Each school and college, and the Auraria Library, will develop a written statement that describes how the primary unit or a different college personnel review committee will be constituted for the PTR evaluation. In addition to following the PTR procedures detailed in APS #1022, the primary unit or the college personnel review committee will make sure that the faculty member under review provides:

   a. The faculty member under review must furnish an updated curriculum vitae;
   b. Their five previous annual performance evaluation reports, including students’ evaluations of teaching, peer reviews of teaching, and, if desired, other types of teaching evaluation data;
   c. Copies of recent publications, and evidence about research and/or creative work and any related funding;
   d. Evidence of university and public leadership/service; and,
   e. If applicable, evidence of clinical work activity.

2. If applicable, the committee will also review the faculty member’s previous Professional Plan and an updated Professional Plan for the next five years. The committee may (but is not required to) request written evaluations from respected peers within or outside the faculty member’s department and school or college (or library).

3. The PTR evaluation committee will prepare a brief written report summarizing the faculty member’s academic accomplishments; it is not necessary to reiterate detailed information that is included in the vitae.

4. At the conclusion of the report, the PTR committee must rate the faculty member’s overall academic performance in each of the areas of teaching, scholarly/creative work, and leadership and service as either “outstanding,” “exceeding expectations,” “meeting expectations,” “below expectations” or “failing to meet expectations.” Each school and college, and the Auraria library, shall develop guidelines for each of these categories; most important, each primary unit must define “meeting expectations,” the standard of acceptable professional performance. The guidelines should be incorporated into the primary unit’s written criteria for tenure and promotion, or into the unit’s bylaws.

5. The chair of the PTR committee shall submit the committee’s written report to the department chair (if applicable), who will forward it to the dean. (In schools and colleges without departments, the committee chair will forward the report directly to the dean; or in the case of the Auraria Library, the report will be forwarded to the library director.) The department chair may elect to attach a letter of concurrence or non-concurrence. A copy of the PTR report will be given to the faculty member and a copy should be placed in the faculty member’s
6. If a faculty member receives a PTR summary rating of “below expectations” or “failing to meet expectations,” in any of the evaluated areas the faculty member must undertake a Performance Improvement Agreement (PIA). If the goals of the PIA are not met, an extensive review will be conducted and a development plan will be written. (See As outlined in the University of Colorado APS #5008 for information and procedures relating to performance improvement agreements and extensive review).

7. Early in the fall semester, the deans will provide a summary report on all PTRs conducted during the previous year, as well as copies of the individual reports, to the Provost’s Office.

D. APPEALS OF PTR EVALUATIONS

Faculty members who believe that they wish to dispute the results of their PTR evaluations are mistaken may appeal their ratings through the established grievance procedures in their school/s and college/library. Each school and college, and the Auraria Library, will develop and maintain a grievance procedure. A written document will detail the composition of the grievance committee for the school/library, as well as procedures to be used to review the grievance. Faculty members who wish to appeal their rating must submit their appeal, in writing, to the dean of the college, school or library within two weeks of the receipt of the PTR results. As stated in the University of Colorado APS on Post Tenure Review, “This appeal process should be completed within six weeks or less from the date it is initiated by the faculty member.”

E. ADVICE FOR PIA

The Associate Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs (Faculty Affairs) will serve as the advisor and resource person for the university. The Associate Vice Chancellor will provide advice to the faculty member, the primary unit and the PTR committees on best practices, models or templates for PIAs and development plans, benchmarks, and timelines. (See Exhibit A: “Suggested Template for Performance Improvement Agreements” and “Suggested Template for Development Plans,” (Exhibit A))

F. SANCTIONS

Per the University of Colorado APS #1022, tenured faculty members who fail to participate in the PTR process may be subject to sanctions for neglect of duty. Sanctions may also be imposed on faculty members who fail to meet goals established in a PIA and/or development plan do not achieve ratings of at least “meeting expectations” in response to triggered reviews, extensive reviews and performance improvement agreements, are subject to sanctions. In such cases, the dean of the faculty member’s college or school shall appoint the case to the appropriate faculty committee (e.g., personnel committee), which will review the materials submitted by the department and the faculty member. After a thorough review of all pertinent documents, the committee shall forward its findings, including any recommended sanctions, to the Provost and Chancellor. The Chancellor makes the final decision regarding sanctions.

Background

A faculty member must participate in developing and implementing a Performance Improvement Agreement (PIA) if: 1) they receive an annual performance rating of “below expectations” or “fails to meet expectations”; or 2) they receive a rating of “below expectations” or “fails to meet expectations” in any of the areas evaluated during the post-tenure review process. If the goals of the PIA are not met, the faculty member is subject to an extensive review. The University of Colorado Administrative Policy Statement (APS) on Post-Tenure Review (PTR) requires that a faculty member who has received two “below expectations” ratings within the previous five years (either as a result of annual performance evaluations or as a result of PTR), or whose Performance Improvement Agreement (PIA) rating did not result in an evaluation of “meeting expectations” or higher, must undergo an Extensive Review by the primary unit. The result of an Extensive Review is the Development Plan.

Appealing the “Below Expectations” Annual Performance Evaluation or PTR Rating

If a faculty member does not agree with a rating of “below expectations” or “failing to meet expectations” (from either the annual performance evaluation or a PTR), he/she can appeal the rating through established grievance procedures in the school/college/library. The faculty member must submit a written appeal within two weeks of the receipt of the “below expectations” results. No action to implement a PIA or begin an Extensive Review will be taken until this appeal process, if invoked, is completed. The appeal process should be completed within six weeks from the date it is initiated by the faculty member.

Performance Improvement Agreements and Extensive Reviews

For procedural information about Performance Improvement Agreements and Extensive Reviews, see the University of Colorado APS 5008 Performance Ratings for Faculty.

The Development Plan and Timeframe

As described in the University of Colorado APS 5008:

Working with the primary unit head or an appropriate committee of the primary unit (as determined by primary unit policy), the faculty member develops a PIA that includes specific goals, timelines, and benchmarks that will be used to measure progress at periodic intervals.

If the goals of the PIA have been met, as evidenced in the next annual performance evaluation after the term of the PIA, the faculty member continues in the current review cycle, whether for comprehensive review, tenure, or post-tenure review. If the goals of the PIA have not been met, an extensive review process shall be initiated.

Upon completion of the [Extensive Review] evaluative report, the faculty member, working with the appropriate primary unit committee, shall write a Development Plan for the next one or two years with specific goals and actions designed to address the areas of deficiency identified in the Extensive Review process. The Development Plan must address the teaching, research/scholarly/creative work, clinical activities (if applicable), and leadership and service assignments anticipated during the period of the plan. It must describe performance goals in light of identified deficiencies, strategies for improvement, and the time frame (up to two years) in which the problems are to be solved. Further, the Plan must contain definite means of measuring progress in achieving the goals and periodic monitoring of progress. Finally, the Development Plan must be approved by the primary unit head and the dean, following consultation with the appropriate primary unit committee.

Evaluating Progress

As stated in the University of Colorado APS 5008:

At the conclusion of the Development Plan period, either (1) the faculty and head of the primary unit or (2) the faculty of the appropriate college personnel review committee assess the progress of the faculty member and forward their conclusions to the dean. After consultation with the dean’s review committee, the dean determines whether the faculty member has achieved the goals of the Development Plan and thus has returned his/her professional performance to meeting expectations. Those who are judged to be meeting expectations begin a new 5-year PTR cycle in the next academic year. Those who are judged not to have achieved professional competence will face sanctions, including the possibility of revocation of tenure and dismissal. Copies of the Extensive Review Development Plan and the primary unit’s assessment of the progress achieved by the end of the development period will be added to the faculty member’s personnel file.
