A. INTRODUCTION

External applicants for faculty positions often request appointment with tenure as an associate professor, appointment with tenure and promotion to professor, or appointment with tenure and the rank of professor. This policy sets forth a formal process for evaluation and review of credentials of such applicants who become finalists, to ensure that they meet Regental standards for tenure and for promotion to professor.

B. POLICY STATEMENT

1. This policy applies to, and must be used in, the following hiring situations:

   a. Situation A: Candidate is currently a tenured associate professor at a comparable institution, and requests tenure as an associate professor at the Downtown Denver Campus.
b. Situation B: Candidate is currently a tenured associate professor at a comparable institution, and requests tenure and promotion to professor at the Downtown Denver Campus.

c. Situation C: Candidate is currently a tenured professor at a comparable institution, and requests tenure and the rank of professor at the Downtown Denver Campus.

d. Situation D: (a very unusual situation): Candidate is not currently tenured at his/her institution, but has a record that clearly meets the Downtown Denver Campus’ standards for tenure. This would most likely only occur if the candidate is at a program/institution that does not grant tenure.

C. TIMING

1. This process shall not be truncated for any faculty appointment that involves tenure.

2. All searches for administrative positions that offer the opportunity for faculty positions with tenure are required to comply with this policy.

3. Candidates for appointments in accordance with this policy should be identified as early as possible during the search process.

D. PROCEDURES

1. Candidate’s Dossier: The candidate submits a dossier containing the following material:

   a. A current vitae.

   b. Evidence of meritorious or excellent teaching (e.g., peer reviews of teaching, student evaluations, syllabi, curriculum development, mentoring, awards).

   c. Examples of meritorious or excellent research or creative works (three publications or other artifacts are sufficient).

   d. Evidence of meritorious or excellent service.

   e. A copy of the criteria for tenure and the criteria for promotion to associate professor and to professor at the candidate’s current institution.

   f. Letters appropriate to the situation:

      (1) Situation A (candidate is currently a tenured associate professor at a comparable institution, and requests tenure as an associate professor: A copy of the official letter that granted the candidate tenure at his/her current institution.

(2) Situation B (candidate is currently a tenured associate professor at a comparable institution, and requests tenure and promotion to professor: A copy of the official letter that granted the candidate tenure at his/her current institution.

(3) Situation C (candidate is currently a tenured professor at a comparable institution, and requests tenure and the rank of professor: Copies of two official letters: (a) the one that granted the candidate tenure at his/her current institution, and (b) the one that granted the candidate the rank of professor at his/her current institution.

(4) Situation D (candidate is currently not tenured at his/her institution, and requests tenure and the rank of either associate professor or professor: A copy of the official letter that granted the candidate his/her current rank at his/her institution.

2. Primary Unit Review. The primary unit adds the following information to the dossier:

a. Dossier checklist. See Appendix A.

b. External letters in the case of Situation B: The primary unit will obtain three external letters of evaluation for appointment with tenure and promotion to the rank of professor, with two of the external reviewers selected by the department chair or dean, and one selected by the candidate. For an example of a letter to request external reviews, see Appendix B.

c. External letters in the case of Situation D: The primary unit will obtain three external letters of evaluation for appointment with tenure, with two of the external reviewers selected by the department chair or dean, and one selected by the candidate. For an example of a letter to request external reviews, see Appendix B.

d. Primary unit letter. This letter should include evaluations of the candidate’s teaching, research or creative works, and service. It is essential that these evaluations carefully and thoroughly assess the candidate’s strengths and weaknesses. If the primary unit recommends that the candidate receive tenure as an associate professor, or tenure and promotion to professor, or tenure and the rank of professor, the letter should indicate how the candidate’s record meets or exceeds the Regental and unit’s standards for tenure and/or promotion. The primary unit’s vote must specify the number of members present and the actual vote.
3. First Level Review Letter. The appropriate body, as defined in the bylaws of the college, school, or library, reviews the candidate’s dossier, votes on the proposed action, and forwards to the dean an evaluation and a recommendation. The first level review is a thorough assessment of the candidate’s record. The vote must specify the number of members present and the actual vote.

4. Dean’s Review. The dean prepares an evaluation and recommendation for action that discusses the earlier reviews and points out areas of concern or disagreement.

a. Dean’s Positive Decision: If the dean recommends that the candidate receive tenure, tenure and promotion to professor, or tenure and the rank of professor, the dean’s letter—called a “justification for appointment with tenure letter or memo—should address the following points. Note: It is imperative that all four points be included in the dean’s letter.)

   (1) A statement of the specific merits of the candidate, including a summary of how the candidate meets or exceeds the Regental and school, college, or library standards for tenure and/or promotion.

   (2) A description of the fiscal and academic program plans for the unit in terms of long-range planning. (Discussion should include, for example, the academic unit's plans to strengthen a particular area in a discipline, to replace retirees in a discipline, to develop a new thrust or focus, to develop resources, to identify and accommodate changes that will occur in the college/school, etc.)

   (3) An explanation of how the personnel action fits into the unit's plan.

   (4) The unit’s tenure ratio including this action.

b. Dean’s Negative Decision: If the dean does not recommend that the candidate receive the requested action—tenure, or tenure and promotion to professor, or tenure and the rank of professor—the process ends.

5. Second-Level Review by the Vice Chancellor’s Advisory Committee (VCAC) for Reappointment, Tenure, and Promotion: If the dean recommends that the candidate receive tenure, or tenure and promotion to professor, or tenure and the rank of professor, the dean sends the dossier to the provost, who refers it to the Downtown Denver Campus VCAC. In order to expedite the review process and to the extent possible, the VCAC chair will move the dossier to the top of the list of dossiers to be reviewed. The VCAC reviews the dossier, votes, and writes a letter. The VCAC vote must specify the number of members present and the actual vote.

6. Provost’s Review: The provost reviews the dossier and the VCAC’s letter and makes a written recommendation to the chancellor.

7. Chancellor’s Review: The chancellor reviews the dossier and provost’s recommendation. If the chancellor supports the appointment, the appropriate materials are submitted to the president.

8. President’s Review: If the president supports the recommendation, the materials are submitted to the Board of Regents for approval.

9. Personnel Recommendation Form: A complete record of the faculty votes at each level of the review process must be included in the dossier. This form requires a signature from the provost and a signature from the chancellor assuring the Board of Regents that the candidate has gone through the proper review process and has met the criteria justifying an appointment with tenure.

(For Situation B, in which promotion to professor is requested): To be promoted to professor at the University of Colorado Denver, Dr./Mr./Ms.________ should have the terminal degree appropriate to their field or its equivalent, and (A) a record that, taken as a whole, is judged to be excellent; (B) a record of significant contribution to both graduate and undergraduate education, unless individual or departmental circumstances can be shown to require a stronger emphasis, or singular focus, on one or the other; and (C) a record, since receiving tenure and promotion to associate professor, that indicates substantial, significant, and continued growth, development, and accomplishment in teaching, research, scholarship or creative work, and service. Your
