Certifications
Submit your certification requests for the Spring 2016 term ASAP if you haven’t already!!

If you have submitted your certification request and it is more than five days old but you have not yet received a confirmation in your CU Denver email from the VA stating it’s been submitted, we are likely waiting for documents or more information. Please contact us for an update on the status of your certification request.

Starting February 4, 2016 we will begin submitting tuition and fees to the VA. You will receive an email from the VA informing you of this amendment to your benefits.

Announcements
January 25, 2016 was the last day to drop a class without the $100 drop fee. The VA does not pay for that drop fee.

February 3, 2016 is the last day to drop with tuition and fees removed. February 4, 2016 if you remove yourself from a course you will be withdrawing and without approved mitigating circumstances from the VA you will owe the tuition and fee cost for the course as well as book stipend and/or BAH if it changes your enrollment status.

New reporting change with the VA! Those students classified as a non-resident contact our office. If you are eligible to petition for residency must provide residency documentation before we are able to certify that student for the Spring 2016 term. Please see our page with a list of acceptable documentation to successfully petition for the in state rate of tuition and fees.

To stay up to date on changes as they occur check in regularly on our

Heroes Clinic
Give Kids a Smile is an event happening at the Heroes Clinic on Friday, February 5, 2016 from 8am-1:30pm. For low income families and select demographics with no dental insurance, the Heroes Clinic will be providing free dental care for kids 18 years and younger. For more information about this event or to schedule an appointment call 303.724.2273.

Boots to Suits
The Career Services team are hitting the ground running this semester. We’re partnering with the CU Career Center to organize events open to all student veterans that will cover areas from networking to resume writing and more. Stay tuned!

The Professional Development Program has also been picking up steam lately, beginning with the reform of what was previously known as “Boots to Suits”. Applications are in and interviews are being scheduled to narrow our pool from 20 to 15. Exciting things are happening and we can’t wait to share the new processes!

Office Gallery
Our rotating gallery is up and we would love it if everyone could stop by and join us in celebrating the creative expressions on our wall this month. If you have some art work you would like us to display please submit photos of your work (s) with your name, the medium of the work, and the dimensions of the work before the last Friday of the month (2/26/2016) to the VSO email; CUDenverVSO@gmail.com. A viewing committee will then select the pieces by the following Tuesday (3/1/2016). The artist(s) of the works selected will be contacted to bring in their pieces and will be displayed on the first Friday of February (3/4/2016).