Section 1: General Guidelines for Core Application

Guideline 1
The Office of the Registrar (RO) will establish CU Denver Campus-wide guidelines to assist with the transfer credit applicability business processes.

1. On-going review will be performed with input from the Degree Audit Coordinators and CCOC.
2. An advisor exception may need CCOC approval if it appears to contradict CCOC policy.
3. An advising exception will apply toward a Campus Core requirement and will be honored by all advising units regardless of the University Requirement Term, degree(s), plan(s) and sub-plan(s).
4. An advising exception may be removed, changed and/or modified in order to optimize the applicability of transfer credit toward degree completion.

Guideline 2
The University Requirement Term identified in the CU-SIS Student Program-Requirement Term field will determine the appropriate Campus Core requirements.

1. The University Requirement Term is independent and will not be impacted by the Plan & Sub-plan Requirement Terms

Section 2: Core Requirement Specific Guidelines

Intellectual Competencies
- English Composition
- Mathematics

Knowledge Areas
- Arts
- Humanities
- Behavioral Sciences
- Social Sciences
- Biological Sciences
- International Perspectives
- Cultural Diversity
2. A readmit student can opt into a different Program requirement term. This can either be their original requirement term, their readmit requirement term, or a term occurring after their readmit using the Student Program Requirement Term Change form.

3. A transfer student can opt into a term occurring after their initial admit term using the Student Program Requirement Term Change Form.

Guideline 3
The applicability of a CU Denver course is determined CCOC policy.

1. A native CU Denver course will apply during the effective term as defined by the CCOC.
2. A transfer course will apply regardless of the term taken.

Guideline 4
Transfer course applicability is the responsibility of the student’s home academic unit.

1. An advising unit is identified by each academic unit and the area of Student Access and Achievement
2. Advisor exception request from the student’s home academic unit will be processed by the RO Team if it meets the established guidelines.

Guideline 5
A non-gtPathways transfer course should match the spirit of the requirement as identified by the appropriate CCOC description area.

1. A non-gtPathways transfer course description must match the generic course description outlined in these guidelines.
2. The course description should carry more weight in pointing decisions than the departmental code.

Guideline 6
A CU Boulder/Springs course that is in progress will not meet a Campus Core requirement.

1. A CU Boulder/Springs course may apply once an appropriate grade is reflected on the CU transcript.

Guideline 7
Based on a documented disability a requirement can be satisfied or completed through a course substitution.

1. An exception may be made by an advising unit with verified documentation from the Disability Resource Center.
Guideline 8
Institutional-specific exams, portfolios, and life-experience credit will not be applied toward a Core requirement.

1. An appeal to the CCOC must be approved for exceptions that fall outside of their policy
2. This does not include military experience credit, which may apply to certain Core requirements.

Guideline 9
A student may appeal any decision made toward the applicability of a course.

1. An appeal to the CCOC must be approved for exceptions that fall outside of their policy

Guideline 10
The credit hour minimum needed in order for a transfer course to apply toward a requirement is determined by the CCOC policy.

1. The minimum number of credit hours required for consideration for core course credit is 2.0 (including lecture-lab combinations).

Guideline 11
An upper division transfer course may complete a lower division Campus Core requirement when it meets the RO-CU Denver Campus-wide Guidelines. Guideline 12

Colorado gtPathways coursework may carry additional applicability
