Consider earning a Bioinnovation Specialization, or even taking an entrepreneurship elective.

The Jake Jabs Center offers graduate students a specialization in Bioinnovation.

Bioinnovation Specialization Requirements
Complete One Core, Two electives, and One Capstone. Courses are in-person unless otherwise specified with OL for online.

1. Core Bio ENTP courses:
   - ENTP 6801 Building Biotechnology (OL) - Spring
   - ENTP 6802 The Legal and Regulatory Environment of Life Science Innovation - Fall

2. Elective ENTP courses:
   - ENTP 6000 Fundamentals of Entrepreneurship - Maymester
   - ENTP 6620 New Venture Operations and Project Management (OL) - Fall
   - ENTP 6642 Exploring Social Entrepreneurship - Fall
   - ENTP 6644 Social Entrepreneurship in the Developing World (OL) - Spring
   - ENTP 6800 Venture Capital Investing – Spring 2014
   - ENTP 6807 Small Business Marketing and Personal Branding - Summer
   - ENTP 6822 Legal and Ethical Issues of Entrepreneurship (OL) - Summer
   - ENTP 6824 Entrepreneurial Finance (OL) - Fall
   - ENTP 6826 International Entrepreneurship - Fall
   - ENTP 6834 Entrepreneurial Marketing – Spring
   - ENTP 6842 New Concept Development (OL) - Spring
   - ENTP 6848 New Leadership Ventures (OL) - Fall
   - Any ENTP 6000 or higher except for 6801 or 6802

3. One of the following Capstone ENTP courses:
   - ENTP 6020 Business Plan and Seed Financing - Spring
   - ENTP 6021 Corporate Entrepreneurship - Fall

Entrepreneurship Certificate: It is NOT necessary for you to be registered in a Masters or MBA program to obtain this certificate and the only requirement is that you have a Bachelor’s Degree. Complete One Core, One Elective, and One Capstone.