

University of Colorado Denver Modified Grading Policy
Spring and Summer 2020
Revised April 20, 2020 to include Summer Semester

CU Denver students may request a grade change to Pass Plus (P+)/Pass (P)/No Pass (NP) for any undergraduate or graduate course taken in Spring or Summer 2020 semesters.

- All undergraduate and graduate courses on the CU Denver campus are eligible for Pass Plus/Pass/No Pass grade designations for Spring and Summer 2020 semesters.
- Students may request a grade change to Pass Plus/Pass/No Pass. The deadlines are June 5 for Spring 2020 and August 13 for Summer 2020. Any grade change request must be submitted to the student's advisor (or program directors for some graduate programs) by 5 p.m. on the deadline date.
- For the Spring Semester, the deadline for a student to request a Withdrawal (W) has been extended to the last day of the term, May 16, 2020. For the Summer Semester, the deadline for a student to request a Withdrawal is, for most classes, July 12, 2020. Please refer to the Summer 2020 Academic Calendar for specific class Withdrawal Deadlines.
- Pass Plus (P+) is defined as a grade of C- or higher. Pass (P) is defined as a grade of D+, D, or D-. No Pass (NP) is defined as lower than D-. None of these options will impact GPA calculations.
- Faculty will submit letter grades as outlined in the syllabus. The student's permanent record will show both the original letter grade and the modified P+/P/NP grade. The modified grade will appear on the transcript.
- In order to request a grade change, students must work with their advisors (or program directors for some graduate programs). Advisors will remind students to confer with the appropriate resources regarding potential academic and financial impacts of the requested grade change(s), including possible implications for veterans' benefits, satisfactory academic progress for financial aid purposes, scholarship eligibility, prerequisite and major requirements, competitiveness of graduate program applications, or other important considerations.
- Published prerequisites and graduation requirements remain in effect. If a student's letter grade is below the required standard to satisfy a prerequisite or graduation requirement, the grade of "P+" or "P" will remain on the transcript, but the prerequisite will not be fulfilled. However, Schools/Colleges may make exceptions to these requirements.
- Grades of "P+" or "P" in Spring or Summer 2020 semesters will not be counted against any existing "P" credit limits.
- Students can still follow grade appeal processes, and other policies remain in force.
