

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The CU Denver Photography program is a Fine Arts photography program, allowing students to learn and build upon visual arts foundations – including drawing and two-dimensional design, among others – to study both traditional and contemporary photographic techniques. Studio work is complemented by theory and history courses, as well as by instruction on how to promote oneself as an artist. Faculty focus on personal artistic expression, broad conceptual concerns, and nurturing the creative process. Students enjoy small classes with instructors who are successful, practicing artists. Unlike many other programs, we explore the potential of not only contemporary digital photography but also of traditional film photography to combine a range of specific techniques with broad artistic concepts and theory. We also offer the opportunity to study and earn credit abroad. Moreover, students find a close-knit and supportive community of fellow artists with whom to share ideas and critiques – in the classroom and in the lab. This community proves invaluable as long-term projects are developed with faculty and peer feedback, culminating in a final senior show and an individualized, professional-level portfolio.

GENERAL GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS & POLICIES

All CU Denver CAM students are required to complete the following minimum general graduation requirements:

1. Complete a minimum of 120 semester hours.
2. Achieve a minimum 2.0 CU cumulative grade point average (GPA).
3. Complete a minimum of 45 upper division (3000/4000 level) credits.
4. Complete all college and major requirements.
5. Residency: complete a minimum of 30 CU Denver hours in good standing at CU Denver.

PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS & POLICIES

Photography is a rigorous program with high standards. Students should expect each studio course to require six hours of out-of-classroom work per week. Skills and a portfolio are developed progressively throughout the degree; it takes at least three years to complete all art course sequences, even if the non-art, general education requirements have already been fulfilled. Photographic processing materials are expensive, and students must provide their own digital single-lens-reflex (SLR) film camera.

Students are encouraged to complete (or be enrolled in) specific visual arts courses before declaring a major in Photography, specifically: FINE 1100 Drawing I, FINE 1400 2-D Design, FINE 1150 Intro to Darkroom Photo, FINE 2155 Intro to Digital Photo, and FINE 2600 Art History Survey I. Students must also earn a minimum cumulative 2.75 GPA for all their Fine Art courses.

Students are responsible for meeting with a CAM advisor to confirm degree progress. Students completing the Fine Arts BFA Degree with an emphasis in Photography are required to complete the following minimum program requirements:

1. Complete 34 semester hours of CU Denver Core Curriculum coursework.
2. Complete a minimum of 77 semester hours of major-area coursework with a grade of C (2.0) or better in each course.
3. Complete a 3-credit College of Arts & Media graduation requirement.
