

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The economics major provides flexibility and opportunity and can take you in many directions, both inside and outside of the field of economics. In fact, most economics majors do not work as economists, but in business careers of all varieties. The analytical and quantitative skills that one acquires as an economics major are much in demand in the job market and are also highly attractive to law schools and MBA programs. Whatever your career plans, economics training can give you the edge you need to further your long-term goals.

The principal areas of study in finance are financial management in small and large businesses, investments, financial institutions, and international finance. The study of finance is intended to provide an understanding of fundamental theory and practice pertaining to finance; to make sound financial decisions. Students are taught to think logically about financial problems, so that they can formulate and implement value maximizing decisions and policies for the business. For this purpose, it is necessary to understand the importance of finance in the economy and the functions and purposes of monetary systems, credit, prices, money markets, and financial institutions. Emphasis is placed on financial policy, management, control, analysis, and decision making.

ACADEMIC ADVISING

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences (CLAS) supports students to graduation using a shared advising system. CLAS students have two academic advisors with whom they should meet regularly to discuss academic and degree progress: a CLAS Academic Advisor and a major advisor. Additionally, CLAS students in the Economics B.A. and Finance B.S. Dual Degree will have a third advisor from the Business School.

PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS & POLICIES

Students are responsible for meeting with the major advisors to confirm major requirements. In addition to completing all CU Denver Core and CLAS requirements, students completing the Economics B.A. and Finance B.S. Dual Degree are required to complete the following minimum program requirements:

1. Students must complete a minimum of 65 credit hours from approved major courses.
2. Students must complete a minimum of 18 upper division (3000-level and above) ECON credit hours, with a minimum of 12 at the 4000-level.
3. Students must earn a minimum grade of C-(1.7) in all ECON and FNCE courses taken at CU Denver and must achieve a minimum cumulative major GPA of 2.0. All graded attempts in required and elective courses are calculated in the major GPA. Courses taken on a P+/P/F or S/U basis will not count toward the major. Students must meet all minimum grade and GPA requirements for Business School Core courses and prerequisites as well.
4. Students must complete a minimum of 18 ECON credit hours including ECON 4811 Introduction to Econometrics, with CU Denver faculty. Once a student has enrolled at CU Denver, no more courses in the major can be taken outside the CU Denver Economics Department. This includes courses offered at Metropolitan State University. The department reserves the right to require a demonstration of competence for any core courses not taken from CU Denver faculty. Students must meet all minimum residency requirements for Business School courses and must complete MGMT 4500 Business Policy and Strategic Management with CU Denver faculty, as well.
5. Students who carefully follow the recommended curriculum will be able to double count several courses, which will allow them to complete both degrees in 127 credit hours.
6. A minimum of 12 of the 18 upper division credit hours required must be completed with 4000 level and above courses.

SAMPLE ACADEMIC PLAN OF STUDY

The following academic plan is a sample pathway to completing degree requirements for this major. Students should tailor this plan based on previously completed college coursework (e.g., AP, IB, CLEP, dual/concurrent enrollment, and transfer credit), course availability, and individual preferences related to course load, schedules, or add-on programs such as minors. Students must meet with the Economics & Finance major advisors to create an individualized plan of study. Students who carefully follow the recommended curriculum will be able to apply several courses to multiple requirements.

Note: this plan assumes students have completed the CLAS/Business School Second Language proficiency requirement. Students must demonstrate second language proficiency through a 2nd semester college-level course equivalent (e.g., SPA 1012 or ASL 1122) with a C- or higher, satisfactory proficiency testing (CU Denver Department of Modern Languages Placement Testing, BYU FLATS, CLEP), or submitting their high school transcript demonstrating completion of a 2nd year (Level II) high school course with a minimum grade of “C-” (1.7) in the 2nd semester of the 2nd year or later. Students may have additional options to fulfill this requirement and should consult a CU Denver CLAS Academic Advisor. Students who have not fulfilled this requirement must work with a CU Denver CLAS Academic Advisor to modify this plan.
