

Sabbatical Support Funding Opportunities

Sabbatical Support Funding

Sabbatical assignments are designed to provide faculty with time to focus on their professional development as researchers and teachers. Institutional support often involves the provision of salary to cover one semester. Sabbatical support from outside sponsors is then sought by faculty to fill the salary gap, pursue their interests, and/or learn new research skills in different settings. Given the time it takes to apply for funding and agency turnaround, for best success faculty should begin looking for external funding two years before their sabbatical begins.

What's in this e-Book?

This publication provides information on funding opportunities available to University of Colorado Denver faculty who are contemplating sabbatical leave. We have included both traditional sabbatical support fellowships that pay the additional half salary, other types of fellowships that provide some level of financial support, and helpful opportunities for successful sabbatical outcomes.

Need More Help?

We invite you to take advantage of ORDE's personalized fund searching services to identify sponsors and funding programs specific to your research interests.

Air Force Office of Scientific Research (administered by Systems Plus) | Air Force Summer Faculty Fellowship Program

Description/Eligibility Criteria: While not a true sabbatical opportunity, these short-term fellowships provide recipients with opportunities to 1) learn about Air Force research needs, 2) interact with Air Force scientists at various facilities, and 3) participate in research efforts at Air Force facilities. Eligible applicants must be US citizens at time of application, hold full-time faculty appointments at US institutions of higher education, and have terminal degrees in science, mathematics, or Air Force-relevant engineering disciplines.

Deadline: December

Award Duration: 8-12 continuous weeks (summer) spent at an Air Force facility

Maximum Award: Small weekly stipend and relocation allowance

Award Notification: Spring

American Academy in Berlin | The Berlin Prize

Description/Eligibility Criteria: Emerging and established scholars, writers, and professionals are welcome to apply for the Berlin Prize, which will allow them to engage in independent study at the Academy. Alumni include historians, economists, journalists, anthropologists, musicologists, public policy experts, sociologists, and writers. Fellows are encouraged to devote time to their own projects within an interdisciplinary residential community, and Academy staff members are available to assist with networking as well as introductions to the cultural, social, and intellectual atmosphere of Berlin. While it is necessary to justify why a period of study in Berlin would be beneficial to the fellow, there is no requirement that fellows be working on Germany-related topics. Eligible candidates are based permanently in the US (although US citizenship is not a requirement), and have terminal degrees.

Deadline: September

Maximum Award: Sponsor support includes $5,000/month stipend, housing, and travel/relocation expenses

Award Duration: Usually limited to 1 academic semester

Award Notification: March

American Council of Learned Societies (ACLS) | Frederick Burkhardt Residential Fellowships for Recently Tenured Scholars

Description/Eligibility Criteria: This fellowship opportunity, supported by the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, funds ambitious humanities and related social sciences long-term projects that would benefit from an academic year of dedicated scholarly work. Successful candidates spend nine months at one of 13 possible residential centers, all of which encourage exchanges across disciplinary lines to enhance the significance of supported projects. Eligible applicants are recently tenured humanities scholars. US citizenship or permanent residency is not required. Fellows' institutions must commit to providing summer salary for recipients (2/9's salary) post-fellowship to allow the continuation of work on their projects.

Deadline: September

Award Duration: 9 months

Maximum Award: $95,000 stipend from ACLS plus research and relocation costs

Award Notification: Late February

Sponsor URL: <http://www.acls.org/programs/burkhardt/>

American Council of Learned Societies (ACLS) | Fellowships

Description/Eligibility Criteria: Fellowships support research in all humanities and related social science disciplines. Intended as salary replacement to help scholars devote six to twelve months to full-time research and writing, it may be supplemented by additional fellowships and/or institutional sabbatical pay up to the current academic year salary of the applicant. Eligibility criteria include US citizenship or permanent residency as of the application deadline, a terminal degree received at least two years prior to the application deadline, and a two-year lapse between previous paid research leaves.

Deadline: September

Award Duration: 6-12 months

Maximum Award: $40,000 for Assistant Professors; $50,000 for Associate Professors; $75,000 for Professors

Award Notification: March

Sponsor URL: <http://www.acls.org/programs/acls/>

American Historical Association | Fellowships in Aerospace History

Description/Eligibility Criteria: A joint offering of the Association and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), this Fellowship provides the opportunity to research all aspects of the history of aerospace. While this is not a residential fellowship, the sponsors encourage the fellow to utilize resources available through the National Archives, the National Academies of Science, the Library of Congress, the Smithsonian Air and Space Museum, NASA Headquarters, and other relevant collections in and around Washington, DC. Eligibility criteria include terminal degree and US citizenship/permanent residency. With the exception of sabbatical support and small grants to fund specific research expenses associated with the project, the fellow is not allowed to hold major fellowships or grants during the award period.

Deadline: April

Award Duration: 6-9 months

Maximum Award: $21,250 stipend (includes travel expenses)

Award Notification: June

Sponsor URL: <http://historians.org/awards-and-grants/grants-and-fellowships/fellowship-in-aerospace-history>

American Institute for Sri Lankan Studies (AISLS) | Fellowships

Description/Eligibility Criteria: The sponsor supports research in Sri Lanka by scholars in the social sciences and humanities. Applicants must fit into one of three categories of research experience related to Sri Lanka: Those with established experience in Sri Lanka, those whose primary interest is not in Sri Lanka but who wish to include consideration of Sri Lanka as part of a larger project, and those whose primary interest has not been Sri Lanka but who wish to conduct (or examine the feasibility of conducting) a major research project there. Limited to US citizens, applicants must hold a PhD by the time they begin their fellowship and may be at any academic rank. Funding for this program comes from the US Department of State.

Deadline: December

Award Duration: 2-6 months in Sri Lanka (time need not be continuous but sponsor pays for only one roundtrip airfare)

Maximum Award: $3,700/month stipend for the length of the fellowship plus airfare and limited research expenses

Award Notification: Early March

Sponsor URL: <http://www.aisls.org/grants/aisls-fellowship-program/>

American Statistical Association | Research Fellowships

Description/Eligibility Criteria: The American Statistical Association in cooperation with the National Science Foundation, Census Bureau, Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA), and Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) offers research fellowships allowing academic researchers to collaborate with agency staff and gain access to agency data sets. Eligible candidates should have academically recognized research records and considerable expertise in their proposed research areas. All research will be conducted at the federal agency.

Deadline: January for BEA; December for Census Bureau; January for BLS

Award Duration: 4-12 months for BEA and BLS; 6-12 months for Census Bureau

Maximum Award: Stipend and travel allowance

Award Notification: Late spring for BLS; March for Census Bureau; not indicated for BEA

Sponsor URL: <http://www.amstat.org/ASA/Your-Career/ASA-Fellowships-and-Grants.aspx>

American Statistical Association/National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS) | Research Fellowships

Description/Eligibility Criteria: This joint fellowship opportunity is designed to bridge the gap between academic and government statisticians. Research fellows work on methodological problems and study analytical issues relevant to NCHS programs and data at NCHS in Maryland. Eligible applicants have a recognized academic record and considerable expertise in their area of proposed research.

Deadline: May (note: applications are accepted year-round until positions are filled; however, to receive full consideration, applications should be submitted by the May deadline)

Award Duration: Not indicated by sponsor

Maximum Award: Stipend plus moving expenses/travel allowance

Award Notification: Not indicated by sponsor

Argonne National Laboratory | Faculty Research Leave – Sabbatical Leave

Description/Eligibility Criteria: This program was established to provide mutual benefits for both visiting faculty members and Argonne in terms of research activity, development of rapport between academic and Argonne researchers, and continuing research partnerships/collaborations after sabbatical leave is concluded. Eligible applicants are full-time faculty members at US institutions of higher education who are eligible for sabbatical leave from their institutions and have demonstrated experience in areas of research and development relevant to Argonne National Laboratory, a US Department of Energy Lab. Research activities of interest to the sponsor are varied; see the Argonne Research Catalog at <https://apps.anl.gov/register/catalog/3> for a listing of projects currently available for faculty appointments.

Deadline: None

Award Duration: 9-12 months

Maximum Award: 50% of salary/fringe benefits for the academic year

Award Notification: Not indicated by sponsor

Sponsor URL: <https://www.anl.gov/education/faculty-sabbatical>

Bogliasco Foundation | Bogliasco Fellowship Program

Description/Eligibility Criteria: These residential fellowships are at the Liguria Study Center for the Arts and Humanities on the Italian Riviera in the town of Bogliasco. The Foundation administers both the Study Center and the fellowships program. Disciplines supported are archaeology, architecture, classics, dance, film/video, history, landscape architecture, literature, music, philosophy, theater, and visual arts. Eligible fellowship candidates have significant achievements in their chosen fields. The review process takes into account candidates' levels of experience and descriptions of projects to be completed while at Liguria Center. There are no citizenship stipulations.

Deadlines: January (for fall semester residency); April (for following spring semester residency)

Award Duration: 1 month

Maximum Award: Fellows are provided with accommodations and full board; note that fellows and accompanying spouses/partners are responsible for all associated travel costs as well as needed equipment and supplies

James McKeen Cattell Fund | Sabbatical Awards

Description/Eligibility Criteria: Established in 1942, this prestigious program awards supplements to regular institutional sabbatical support allowances. Eligible applicants are psychologists who are tenured faculty members (or those who will have confirmation of formal tenure by the application deadline) at institutions of higher education in the US or Canada, are eligible for sabbatical leave according to the policies of their home institution, have not had leave with pay for five years prior, and have not been previous recipients of this award.

Deadline: January

Award Duration: 9 months

Maximum Award: $40,000 ceiling (computation is based on one-half of academic year salary)

Award Notification: Not specified by sponsor

Sponsor URL: <http://www.cattell.duke.edu/>

Center for Advanced Study in Behavioral Sciences | Individual Residential Fellowships

Description/Eligibility Criteria: The Center, located at Stanford University, provides this residential fellowship to further scholarship on understanding and solving critical problems of contemporary society. In addition to disciplines within the behavioral and social sciences, the sponsor considers fellowship applications from scholars in the natural sciences, humanities, arts, professions, and public life whose work has human behavioral and social dimensions that would be complementary to the cohort of fellows. Recipients engage extensively in conversations within their multidisciplinary cohort of fellows. An eligible applicant holds a terminal degree, is an academic faculty member with a high level of achievement including a strong publication record, and is engaged in relevant lines of research. Junior faculty three or four years beyond the doctorate are encouraged to apply. Applicant achievement records will be assessed in accordance with academic rank.

Deadline: November

Award Duration: 9 months

Maximum Award: $77,000 (sum of fellow's sabbatical support from home institution plus Center stipend not to exceed base academic salary for fellowship year)

Award Notification: February

Sponsor URL: <https://casbs.stanford.edu/fellowships>

Center for Jewish History | NEH Fellowship for Senior Scholars

Description/Eligibility Criteria: This award allows the recipient to conduct research at the Center in various humanities fields including Jewish studies, Russian and Eastern European studies, American studies, Germanic studies, musicology, linguistics, anthropology, sociology, and history. Eligible candidates are college and university faculty with terminal degrees received more than six years prior to the start date of this fellowship who require access to holdings of the Center and its partners to further their research. Center partners are the American Jewish Historical Society, American Sephardi Federation, Leo Baeck Institute, Yeshiva University Museum, and YIVO Institute for Jewish Research. United States citizens and those with foreign citizenship who have been in the US for the last three years at the time of application are eligible. Funding for this award is provided by the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Deadline: January

Award Duration: 1 year

Maximum Award: $50,400 stipend

Award Notification: Mid-March

National Institute on Deafness and Other Communication Disorders (NIDCD) | Research Career Enhancement Awards for Established Investigators (K18)

Description/Eligibility Criteria: Focusing on established researchers, holding the rank of Associate Professor or Professor, this K18 program is designed to provide short-term, intensive periods of mentored research experience that allow these researchers to acquire new research capabilities in the study of hearing, balance, smell, taste, voice, speech, and language (typically during an academic sabbatical year). The expectation is that this mentored opportunity will lead to new research avenues for K18 recipients that will fare well competitively within NIH. Both researchers within NIDCD funding areas as well as those not currently working in those areas who would like to add to their research portfolio are eligible. Mentored experiences take place in a host laboratory, either within the candidate's institution or a different institution. Eligible candidates hold terminal degrees, are at the rank of Associate Professor or higher, have established records of independent, peer-reviewed research funding (Federal and/or private), and are US citizens, non-citizen nationals, or permanent residents.

Deadline: February, June, October

Award Duration: 6-24 months

Maximum Award: Dependent on institutional salary and support levels; an additional $40,000 per year covers research development costs
