

THE WILLIAM ROBINSON/PETER DURST SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATION

Professor Emeritus William Robinson, MD, Ph.D. and Denver sculptor/ceramicist Peter Durst have collaborated to provide personal and donor funds so that students from the University of Colorado Denver and international students have an opportunity to engage in a culturally diverse clinical and/or research experience during their graduate training. Philosophically, this scholarship is grounded in a deep commitment to the long-lasting, positive value of international health care as it relates to broadening personal and academic perspectives. Scholars of this program will have an opportunity to meet and thank Dr. Robinson and Mr. Durst. We are honored to be able to offer you the opportunity of this program scholarship.

Application deadline: April 25, 2021 (end of day)

The maximum grant is $2,000 each year.

Criteria for eligibility for this scholarship:

- You are a full-time, currently enrolled graduate student in good standing in one of the University of Colorado health-related programs. Residents and Fellow are not eligible.
- Preference given to projects in the developing world. The Scholarship Committee will also consider projects involving culturally diverse, underserved communities in industrialized countries, e.g., Aborigines in Australia.
- Preference given to students in their final year of study, but applications will be considered from a student in any year.
- If you received the Robinson Durst Scholarship during a previous academic year, you are NOT eligible to apply for the Robinson Durst Scholarship again.
- If an applicant has received another scholarship administered by the Center for Global Health and is awarded the Robinson Durst Scholarship, they must choose between the two scholarships. Only one Center for Global Health administered scholarship each application cycle is allowed.
- You must select or have a faculty supervisor/mentor at the University of Colorado and another supervisor/mentor at your designed site (at your on-site location). Both supervisors/mentors must both agree on the proposed project of your choosing
 - For foreign students- you are required to have a faculty supervisor/mentor at your home institution and another one at the University of Colorado to fulfill this requirement.
- The Scholarship does not require that the student receive academic credit for the experience.
- The project selected by the Student should be realistic and should be completed within a reasonable timeframe. Typically, the selected project should be completed within six (6) weeks. This work may include all or some of the following: scientific/controlled study, clinical work, language study and cultural adaptation.
- Proposals to fund international electives that include ONLY clinical experience will not be considered. The elective should ideally include a combination of clinical experience compatible with the academic level of the student, language learning as appropriate, and socio-cultural immersion.

The Application Requirements:

1. Completion of the application- Application can be found by clicking here or by going to the link at <https://forms.gle/ZUckjMyYcHJ22K1V9>. Please complete the application to the best of your knowledge. Sections 2 through 9 must be provided as separate documents and uploaded as attachments in the application form. If you are unable to upload your documents, please contact Desiree Bauer at desiree.bauer@cuanschutz.edu
2. Budget- should include the following:
 - Transportation
 - Printing services
 - List other expenses (i.e. digital softwares, training materials, etc.)
Note: We will NOT consider "miscellaneous" as a category. Remember to include the cost of supplemental health insurance. For University of Colorado and on-site faculty contacts, please include complete information – name, title, university/department affiliation, telephone number, address, email address. You must include the number of weeks you plan to spend on the study.
3. Personal statement- should be 1-page explaining how this project fits into your overall educational plan.
4. Abstract- should be a maximum of one hundred (100) words briefly summarizing the work you plan to do while at your designated location.
5. Description of your work- clearly describe any pertinent background material; your intent, goals and intended outcomes, and a brief description of why you selected the work and the destination (i.e. what difference will it make that you do this?).
 - The description should NOT exceed five double-spaced typed pages.
6. COMIRB/ IRB- Please provide a description of the review process planned for research on human subjects (if applicable). Any research project involving human subjects sponsored through the University of Colorado needs to be reviewed by COMIRB.
 - Note: that some projects may also require approval from a local, in-country ethics review committee. Comment on COMIRB approval or describe your timeline for COMIRB approval prior to your departure from the US. This is something that should be discussed with your University of Colorado faculty sponsor.
 - Added Note: human subjects review may add to the preparation time before departure. Please work with your faculty mentor to assist with the COMIRB process.
7. Surveys- Copy of any surveys to be used in the study, if applicable.
8. Three (3) letters of recommendation- One recommendation letter should be from your University of Colorado faculty sponsor/mentor, one from your on-site sponsor/mentor in the country of study; the last can be from anyone but should be from another person involved in your project if applicable.
9. Curriculum Vitae (CV)- We require a copy of our CV.

After submission of your application:

- You will be notified of the decision of the review and selection committee by May 1st via email directly from Desiree Bauer, Administrative Assistant. Mary Moua, Center Administrator.

If you are awarded, the next steps are:

Disclosure: Given the current situation with COVID-19, the University of Colorado has not yet lifted the international and domestic travel restrictions for students. However, we still want to continue to help create learning opportunities for students at the University of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus so with the approval of the scholarship sponsor, they have agreed to extend the award to approve local and virtual projects this year, 2021-2022.

- If you are accepted for this Scholarship, you agree to present your findings at a University of Colorado forum, within six (6) weeks or in the year of your project completion. You will need to contact Mary Moua to schedule your oral presentation immediately after your project completion. Any delays will delay the release of your scholarship funds. If you change your project, you need to inform the Center Administrator, Mary Moua, immediately of your new project title and the project description. The scholarship committee will need to approve the new project.
- With the assistance of your supervising faculty/mentors, you are required to submit a well-composed PowerPoint presentation slide deck and a 12 to 15-minute oral presentation. The PowerPoint presentation should include the following, but not limited to:
 - 1) Title of your project
 - 2) Faculty/ Mentors name and team
 - 3) Location of on-site project
 - 4) Result of your project and the unexpected barriers you experienced
 - 5) Research methods

You will need to submit a copy of your PowerPoint presentation slide deck to Mary Moua, mary.moua@cuanschutz.edu.

- Scholarship monies will be distributed during the Fall Term (after you receive your scholarship award notice). Reminder: As part of the stipulation of this award, you are required to an oral presentation and the submission of your PowerPoint presentation slide decks to the Center for Global Health as part of your scholarship requirement. The Center for Global Health will keep your presentation on file.
 - Per University scholarship policy, the monies will be disbursed into your bursars account at the University of Colorado. The monies will automatically go towards any outstanding balance in your student account through Financial Aid Office. If an outstanding balance does not exist, the Financial Aid Office will request the monies be sent to you via check or direct deposit (whichever method you have established with their office).
- A copy of any paper published through this effort is required to be submitted to the Center for Global Health Scholarship records.

Thank you for your interest in international health science. Should you have questions regarding this Scholarship, please contact Desiree Bauer, Administrative Assistant, Center for Global Health, email desiree.bauer@cuanschutz.edu
