

You are receiving this email as part of the university's annual policy disclosure requirements as it relates to the Department of Education regulations.

As a student, you have a right to information about the University of Colorado. The following is a brief description of some important disclosures. More information and resources can be found on CU Anschutz's Student Right to Know webpage.

Academic Resources

- Accreditation and Academic Programs – The University's regional and special program accreditation as well as access to our academic programs.
- Rights to Educational Records and Privacy – Student's rights with respect to educational records as outlined in the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

General University Information

- College Navigator – A Department of Education tool that provides students and parents with information on academic programs, retention and graduation rates, student diversity, campus safety, accreditation, and estimated student expenses.
- Student Complaint & Grievances – Policies intended to ensure students are treated fairly and equally as well as the opportunity to inform the University if you experience unjust behavior.

Health and Safety

- Safety and Security – Annual information on campus security and personal safety including topics such as crime prevention and reporting.
- Emergency Notification System (CU Alerts!) – Sign up today to receive University alerts when conditions develop on or near campus, which pose an immediate threat of danger.
- Title IX, Sexual Misconduct and Nondiscrimination – Office of Equity is designated to respond to issues related to discrimination, harassment, and sexual misconduct. Respect Expected!

Student Diversity and Outcomes

- Enrollment, Retention, and Graduation Rates – Rates based on students' ethnicity, gender, financial aid recipients, and students who transferred into CU Anschutz.
- Post Graduate Degree Outcomes - Information about continuing education pursued by alumni or the type of employment obtained after graduation.

Student Financial Assistance

- Paying for College – Financial aid information including Cost of Attendance and your student rights and responsibilities as a financial aid borrower.
- Withdrawing from the University – Information on how your aid can be impacted if you need to withdraw from classes after the semester started.

Student Support Services

- Counseling Center – Confidential mental health counseling for all enrolled students.
- Disability Resources & Services – Promoting an inclusive experience and equal access for students with disabilities as well as accommodations support.
- Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion – Offering services, resources, and guidance to enhance diversity and foster a university-wide culture of equity and inclusion.
- Lynx Central – Your one stop shop regarding your admissions application, registration, student bill, and financial aid.

Current and prospective students may contact the respective offices (listed on the CU Anschutz's Student Right to Know webpage) to obtain more information. You may also request a paper copy of any of the information provided.

Have a great semester!