Subject: CAM Offices in the Arts Building will be open all week—remotely

Dear Colleagues,

The College of Arts & Media takes great pride in being a part of the Auraria community and having a footprint in Downtown Denver.

The CAM Offices in the Arts Building will be open all week—remotely, with our hope that any demonstrations that occur in the wake of the presidential election on Tuesday, Nov. 3, 2020 remain peaceful and productive. Vital information will be communicated to keep everyone informed through RAVE text alerts, emails, social media, and website updates.

The leadership of CCD, MSU, AHEC, and CU Denver are all committed to ensuring that all individuals who wish to make their voices heard on our campus can do so in a safe environment. In fact, you are encouraged you to do so! Engaging in our civic discourse is not only your right, it is our responsibility as members of this community.

This information has been shared as a reminder of how to engage in protest or demonstration. The American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) of Colorado has provided resources so that everyone can "Know Your Rights" as you may engage.

During this time, we ask that you continue to check the CAM website, CU Denver website, as well as the Auraria Higher Education Center's website, for pertinent updates. We will work diligently to ensure that you are provided with the important information needed to stay safe in the coming weeks.

Very best,
