

Colorado Clinical and Translational
Sciences Institute (CCTSI)

UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO DENVER | ANSCHUTZ MEDICAL CAMPUS

Biography

Kaylee Rivera, MPH, is a Project Manager for the CCTSI Community Engagement and Research Core and assists with the SNOCAP Practice-Based Research Networks based out of the University of Colorado's Department of Family Medicine (CU DFM). She assists with the implementation of flagship programs such as the pilot grants, PACT Council, and Colorado Immersion Training. Prior to joining the team, Kaylee was the Community Engagement and Trainings manager for the Center for Health, Work & Environment at the Colorado School of Public Health. Kaylee received her Master of Public Health degree from California State University, Long Beach with a focus in Community Health Education and Latino Nutrition and Health Promotion. Prior to moving to Denver, she worked at California State University, Monterey Bay where she served as a research analyst for the Dean of Health Sciences and taught courses in health ethics.