Campus Security Authority (CSA) encompasses four groups of individuals and organizations associated with an institution, as follows:

1. Police department;
2. Any individual or individuals who have responsibility for campus security but who do not constitute a campus police department or a campus security department (e.g., an individual who is responsible for monitoring the entrance into institutional property);
3. Any individual or organization specified in an institution’s statement of campus security policy as an individual or organization to which students and employees should report criminal offenses;
4. An official of an institution who has significant responsibility for student and campus activities, including, but not limited to student housing, student discipline and campus judicial proceedings;
5. Individuals may be designated as CSAs based on whether they perform the following functions:
   a) Their official job responsibilities involve significant interaction with students and/or campus activities;
   b) They work as informal or unofficial mentors to students;
   c) They serve as a member in an office or of a committee to whom students are instructed or informed to report or discuss crimes, allegations of crime, and other troubling issues, and/or;
   d) They have oversight for disciplinary procedures.

Training: If you’d like more information about what it means to be a CSA, complete the CSA training through SkillSoft, here. (Optional, but highly encouraged)